HEALTHCARE ENFORCEMENT

HEALTHCARE ENFORCEMENT

McGuireWoods is a national leader in representing healthcare companies that are subject to government fraud enforcement investigations and actions. Relying on our industry-leading regulatory attorneys with their extensive knowledge regarding the laws and regulations impacting the provision of healthcare as well as the sale and promotion of drugs and medical devices; and the wealth of experience navigating high-risk matters offered by McGuireWoods' nationally recognized litigation and white-collar defense team, time and again clients have called upon McGuireWoods when confronted with an inquiry, subpoena or complaint from the government or one of its intermediaries.

Our Healthcare Enforcement Team includes members of our Government Investigations and White Collar Litigation Department, which has been recognized twice as a Law360 Group of the Year, includes a former Deputy Attorney General of the United States, former U.S. attorneys, more than a dozen federal prosecutors and other former enforcement officials; as well as members of the Healthcare Department, whose lawyers have been recognized by Chambers USA, Best Lawyers in America, Legal Elite and Super Lawyers as among the top legal service providers in the nation. The team, many of whom have significant experience working for the enforcement agencies that bring investigations and initiate litigation against our clients, maintains strong personal and professional relationships with investigating agencies and, as a result, we bring credibility to any representation. This extensive experience, as well as our attorneys' close relationships with prosecutors and regulators, provide unique insights into the government's tactics and policy concerns. That insight is critical in helping to persuade prosecutors to decline to file a complaint or intervene in a qui tam (whistleblower) suit, dismiss a qui tam complaint outright, or take other actions that lead to a favorable outcome for a client.

When fraud allegations arise in the administrative, civil or criminal context, our experienced Healthcare Enforcement Team leverages a storied history of helping corporate clients and individuals navigate the complexities of potentially-perilous investigations and enforcement actions and attain favorable resolutions with minimal impact on business operations. The multidisciplinary team includes numerous former federal prosecutors with extensive experience prosecuting healthcare fraud cases at DOJ, and seasoned trial attorneys who have defended numerous fraud actions in the healthcare sector. Representation of clients is also enhanced by combining this enforcement and litigation experience with McGuireWoods' recognized regulatory experience in a broad range of sub-sectors in the healthcare industry.

The Healthcare Enforcement Team routinely advises clients on regulatory matters which arise during audits, investigations and enforcement proceedings initiated by various federal and state agencies including the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) and its intermediaries, the Office of Inspector General (OIG) of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), the Department of Justice (DOJ), and state health departments, attorneys general and professional licensing boards.

We also advise participants throughout the healthcare and life sciences industries on compliance matters, including the establishment of compliance programs, the adoption of policies and procedures, compliance training, and the resolution of compliance reports and investigations. Our focus on assisting clients with the implementation and operation of effective compliance programs based on applicable law, regulations, and guidance allows our clients to identify and resolve regulatory risks before they become significant issues.

HOW WE HELP

The Healthcare Enforcement attorneys at McGuireWoods have the knowledge and experience that healthcare providers and insurers need to deftly handle high-risk enforcement investigations and action and achieve compliance with federal and state-specific regulatory requirements. Our team represents and advises clients with respect to a full range of regulatory areas, including:

Federal and state criminal fraud and abuse provisions

False Claims Act (FCA) and state equivalents

Federal and state anti-kickback laws, including the federal Anti-Kickback Statute

Federal and state self-referral laws, including the federal Stark law

Federal and state privacy laws, including HIPAA

Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations

Corporate practice of medicine restrictions

Medicare and Medicaid conditions of participation

Telehealth regulations

Federal procurement laws and regulations

Beyond responding to investigations and enforcement actions, we also assist clients in proactively reducing risk by:

Conducting internal audits and investigations

Developing and implementing compliance programs

Facilitating enterprise-wide risk management solutions

C-suites of Fortune 500 companies, senior executives, boards of directors and high-profile individuals rely on McGuireWoods to handle responses to healthcare fraud investigations from inception to resolution. We focus on minimizing the business and personal interruptions an investigation can cause. By developing strategies to reduce civil, criminal and administrative exposure, we help to navigate a cumbersome, time-consuming process while limiting the consequences of an investigation or action. More specifically, our experienced Healthcare Enforcement attorneys will:

Employ its close relationship with prosecutors to attempt to glean details about potentially under-seal matters and confidential investigations and limit the scope and breadth of discovery requests.

Confer with McGuireWoods premier regulatory experts to quickly master the relevant industry-specific legal regime, program and reimbursement rules, standards and practices.

Formulate and execute a comprehensive internal investigation and defense strategy to quickly and efficiently learn the relevant facts and circumstances, so we can minimize risks and maximize the chances of a quick and favorable outcome for the client.

Navigate ancillary risks and attendant negotiations such as corporate integrity or monitoring agreements and potential suspension, exclusion or revocation from federal healthcare programs.

We also work closely with our Strategic Risk & Crisis Management Team to manage related issues, including board and shareholder relations, media inquiries and other crisis management matters.
